U. S. BANDMASTER PRAISES EATONIC FOR BAD STOMACH

Wm. H. Santelmann, Capt. U. S. Navy and Leader of Marine Band, Uses EATONIC With Excellent Results.

Leader of U. S. Marine Band Wm. H. Santelmann

The U. S. Marine Band, stationed at Washington, D. C., is freely acknowledged to be one of the finest musical organizations on earth. From the very nature of his profession the leader of such an organization necessarily must be critical and exacting. This it is certain that Capt. Santelmann, leader of the Marine Band, weighed well his words and gave expression to his own critical judgment when he wrote as follows:

"EATONIC is an invaluable remedy for dyspepsia and indigestion. I have used it with excellent results."

Very truly yours,
WM. H. SANTELMANN,
Capt. U. S. Navy and Leader of Marine Band.

This famous band leader and naval officer wastes no words in telling you just what he thinks of "EATONIC." He tells you that in cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it is "invaluable"—that he has used it with excellent results.

If "EATONIC" is invaluable for dyspepsia and indigestion it is just as invaluable for practically every form of stomach trouble, because nearly all stomach misery can be traced to the same common source—excess acidity of the stomach. The way to get rid of acidity is to neutralize it. And that is exactly what EATONIC does.

What causes excess acidity? Often from eating too hurriedly. Or eating too much. Or eating too freely of rich pastries and other foods. Or from a sluggish flow of digestive juices. Or from lack of exercise. Any one or more of a number of things may cause it. But the results are nearly always the same—indigestion, dyspepsia, heartburn, flatulence, bloating, a sour, knobby stomach. By neutralizing the excess acidity EATONIC gives you quick relief from all these disorders. It enables you to eat in comfort. It keeps the stomach in a state of perfect health. Try EATONIC and you, like Capt. Santelmann, will find it invaluable.

Here's the secret: EATONIC drives the acid out of the body—and the blood goes with it. Costs only a cent or two a day to use it. Guaranteed to bring relief or money back. Get a box today from your druggist.

We are paying the highest prices for Rags, Scrap Iron, Papers, Hides and all kinds of junk. We have two yards.

MISS HELEN JACKSON WRITES OF Y. W. C. A. WORK "OVER THERE"

Former Instructor at the Local High School Says Y. W. C. A. Foyer Is Bright Spot in War's Grayness.

"Such a bright little spot in the midst of all this grayness," is the way Miss Helen Jackson, former instructor at the local high school, and now in France doing Y. W. C. A. work, describes the Y. W. C. A. foyer in which she is working so far from home. Miss Jackson has written many letters to friends in this city who are sincerely interested in her welfare and are glad to hear that she is getting along with her new work. Miss Jackson left the local high school shortly after Christmas for an eastern port, from where she went immediately to France, which she had known for years, and where she had taught at high school, has added very greatly in her work over there.

Social Centers.

Miss Jackson, a niece of the late out-of-town woman who bears, went to France under the National Y. W. C. A. in February. Formerly she was connected with the association in Chicago.

The foyer she mentions is one of those lunch and social rooms the Y. W. C. A. has been placing in the ruin centers for the comfort of the women doing work behind the lines in France. These rooms are rest spots during the noon hour but they are also a club for the women doing the evening hours.

Families "Back There."

"Some nights the foyer is full and noisy and on others there is only a little group gathered around the table near the fire and it is quiet," Miss Jackson writes. "These are the times when the more reticent women become better acquainted with the awful conditions of the war, of their families still back there, as they designate the captured part of France; the dear ones they have not heard from for three or four years."

Our girls enjoy regular American lunches and picnic lunches out to places where green grass is the chief attraction change from the mud and dust surrounding the front lines.

"The greater number of employees in this district are refugees or 'repatriates' from the invaded districts. As I have listened to their stories, I have wondered if time can ever heal the scars of this war."

THRESHING DIVISION SAVES WASTE WHEAT

County Committees to Supervise Threshing and Inspect Machines So That Much Waste May Be Prevented.

It is estimated that from one to ten percent of the wheat crop is lost by careless operation and inefficiency of the threshing machine. Of wheat for home consumption and the armies abroad, the grain corporation, in consultation with Mr. Hoover, has established a grain threshing division under the direction of Captain Kenneth D. Heughebaert, U. S. R. County committees composed of the county auditor, the county clerk, a representative of the state or local council of national defense will be organized in counties which have sufficient acreage to require the operation of five or more threshing machines.

To inspect Machines.

Waste in threshing depends largely upon the condition of the machine and the care with which it is operated. While it is thought that the majority of machines do operate satisfactorily, their efficiency is impaired as they grow old and many wastes occur.

Investigations have led the U. S. food administration to believe that much grain can be saved by securing the condition of the threshing machines before harvest and putting them in condition to do their work.

To ascertain the good condition of threshing machines in Wisconsin, the threshing division asks the co-operation of the Wisconsin farmers. They should report wastes or need of repairs to the threshing division, either by letter to the state capital at Madison, Wis. A strong effort will be made to have every machine inspected, and a close plan of co-operation between the threshermen and the county committees agreed upon.

Threshermen's assistants, who are expert in repairing threshing machines and engines, will be available in each state to co-operate with threshermen requiring expert help.

POLICEMAN SAVES MAN FROM SUICIDE

Edward D. Tracey, 323 South Academy Street, Attempts to Shoot Himself Yesterday Afternoon.

Edward D. Tracey, 323 South Academy street, owes his life to the quick actions of Policeman J. J. Hyman, who took a .38 calibre revolver away from Mr. Tracey as he was preparing to take his life yesterday afternoon. Mr. Tracey came down from his room in the afternoon and went into the Kimball Furniture store, where he asked Mr. Kimball if he could write a note. Mr. Kimball furnished him with paper and pen. After finishing the note he pulled the gun out of his pocket and started to put some cartridges in it.

He then left the store and wandered back into the morgue but was asked by one of the employees to get out. He then walked to the corner on North River street across from the West Side Fire station and sat down. Policeman Hyman, who was standing on the corner noticed the peculiar actions of the man and decided to watch him. After sitting there for a few minutes the man pulled the gun out of his pocket and prepared to shoot himself. Hyman rushed forward, shot the man's hand just as he was putting the gun to his head.

Mr. Tracey has lived in this city for a number of years and at one time was a member of the police of a northern Wisconsin city. No cause for his actions can be given.

STREET CARS WILL CONTINUE TO OPERATE

W. H. Dougherty, Local Attorney for Janesville Traction Company, States That Cars Will Not Stop Running.

Contrary to rumors that have been going around for the past week, it was announced this morning that the Janesville Traction company would not discontinue to operate on June 1st.

Attorney William H. Dougherty stated this morning that there was absolutely no truth to the rumors that the city cars would stop running on June 1st. He stated that it has not even been mentioned by officials of the company that the cars would be taken off the Janesville tracks.

About six weeks ago the Janesville Traction company asked the railroad commission for an increase in rates and at the time of the hearing it was intimated that unless the rate was granted that the service would be suspended. Up to the present time the commission has not granted the increase and Mr. Dougherty stated this morning that there were no grounds for the rumor that the cars would cease running on June 1st.

SPECIALLY TRAINED REGISTRANTS CALLED

Two Brakemen and One Locomotive Fireman Are Called for and Expected to Entrain Next Saturday.

That registrants who made application to the local board some time ago to enter branches of the service in which they are particularly qualified, are now fully evident. Calls for two brakemen and one locomotive fireman were issued yesterday by the local board. Stanley Gerhart of this city, and Ed. Ford of Edgerton, both brakemen, and Walter J. Britt of this city, fireman, have been ordered to report for entrainment to some army post Saturday, June 1st. The date and hour of their entrainment has not yet been definitely fixed.

By making known to the government some time ago that they were willing and anxious to serve as their qualifications best fitted, these three men have been given this excellent opportunity. Many other registrants with special training have also applied, but no call has as yet been received for any of them.

SOME FAMILY!

359,709,482 Young In Three Years

This startling number, according to the recent Government rat census, would be the total, in three years' time, of a pair of rats and their young, if they breed continuously without deaths. This would include 18 generations, for a rat breeds from 6 to 10 times a year with an average of 10 young at a litter. The need of suppressing the rat menace is self-evident—particularly when you take into consideration that, on the average, a single rat destroys $5 worth of food-stuffs annually. The total loss in a year from rats is $200,000,000.00.

A new rat poison has recently been discovered that will greatly aid the nation in saving the food which is so badly needed by ourselves and our allies. It is called Rat Mum, and destroys without odor. Dogs and cats will not eat it. It is not spread on bread, as you do not run the risk of having humans eat it by mistake. Rat Mum comes in a cake. You simply crumble it and put it where the rats will get it, and you can soon rid your place of every one of these wasteful, disease-spreading pests. In this way you may save yourself hundreds of dollars yearly. And besides, you are performing a patriotic service, every rat you kill. Rat Mum is sold in 25 cent packages at druggists and grocers.

DOWN IN DIXIE.

It would appear that while there is no county war chest with a slogan, "Your Share is Fair," down in the still the citizens are just as patriotic and enthusiastic over compelling all citizens to be loyal and do their share even though they wreck restaurants or treat a preacher of the gospel to a dose of tar and feathers as they are here in Rock county, passing out a few stripes of yellow paint to a slacker in the county war chest.

The Milwaukee Sentinel comments on the Birmingham episode as follows:

"Why can't people who move from the temperate zone of the United States into Dixie take account of the temperature there and be careful?"

"Not long ago a postpaid clergyman went to Kentucky with his unseasonable warms. He was taken to the woods by a delegation of usually respectable citizens and severely flogged without benefit of clergy."

"And now comes Birmingham, Ala., and wrecks the restaurant of a lately arrived northern person who had refused to join the other city restaurants in voluntarily eliminating white products from the menu."

"Finally, sentiment runs high, that he is actually under public police protection from threatened personal violence in the tar and feathers or fence rail line."

"Couldn't the man understand that he was in Dixie where patriotism is painfully quick on the trigger? He might as well have spoken disparagingly of the Baptist church in Massachusetts county and expected to get away with it."

"Up north they would simply have stayed away from his place until he was financially starved into submission to the patriotic rule of wheatless days. Down south they mobbed his joint, drenched him to the skin with kerosene and he is now under protection against further possible patriotic wrath to come."

"Presumably the key to the rather extreme proceedings of Birmingham in this case lies in the fact that the victim of popular wrath is a man named Thompson from Chicago. Perhaps another case of association of ideas."

With the railroad rates increased materially, the price of gasoline has advanced, and the price of food is so much exorbitant, this coming six months in the past. People will "hooverize", economize, and do less "traveling" and more actual "working" than ever before. Consequently we must have home recreations to meet the demand for pleasures that have hitherto been taken at a distance.

In the first place there should be band concerts. This now seems assured. In the second place the city authorities should place drinking fountains in the upper end of the Court House park and in all the parks, so that persons desiring to take their lunch or their supper in these breathing places can find proper accommodations. Last year the fountains in the upper end of the Court House park were most popular. Then in this same connection there should be plenty of receptacles where waste papers and refuse could be placed and avoid littering the parks.

Private resorts should be well patronized at a minimum cost and the use of wonder places within a few hours of Janesville that could be explored to advantage and the wonders of nature enjoyed to the utmost. While we preach "back to the soil" to increase the food supply, why not start a slogan, "back to nature" to really enjoy life and at the same time conserve time and money as essential to other necessities of life.

It might be a good thing to consider this question of "Home Recreation" and have a committee of citizens named to make suggestions as to what activities are essential. But first let us be assured of the "Old Swimming Hole" and the recreation grounds for the young people, with capable instructors.

It would look as though Director General of Railroads MacAdoo had put the railroad commissions of this nation out of business at one full swoop by his increase of rates order. Well, there are a lot of people who never did like commission rule anyway.

Thrill stamps are going to play an important part as prizes in various contests this year, and it is a patriotic movement that will take much of the prejudice of the carpers of social enjoyment by individuals and leave them nothing to talk about.

So it was "Teddy" and "Will" when Roosevelt and Taft met in Chicago. The next thing you know it will be "Woody, Old Chap!"

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest.

PAV'S SADDEST HOUR.
My Pa is seldom solemn, he is mostly full of fun.
He says he hates to scold us for the wrong we may have done,
He's always gay and smiling, and he'll romp about the floor,
An' he's never cross an' cranky like the man that lives next door.

But I've noticed, though he tells us that the good are always glad,
That the times Ma asks for money Pa becomes a trifle sad.

He will stand for all the racket that we make without a word,
An' I know he has his troubles, but he is mostly always laughing, an' we look for him each day.
'Cause we know when supper's over that with us he'll want to play.

Then his fingers tap the table as he thinks a little while,
An' his forehead gets all wrinkled an' his face forgets to smile.
An' he says, "Good gracious, mother, where did all the money go?
That you got from me last Tuesday?"

That is what an' cheerful, an' it really seems too bad.
That Ma has to ask for money, 'cause it always makes him sad.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

—ROY K. MOULTON—

CHARGE THE LINE.
Soon the balmy breezes, products of colds and sneezes, will dispel our dreams of winter, daffily cheeks, our eyes will see the red-checked maiden and her brother Johnny spud in their Uncle Sammy garden and a-rakin' up the yard. These and other signs will tempt us to remove our fuzzy-wuzzies and our hee-wee-wees to do. When our last wish has been granted, and our eyes have got to be planted, we don't need our bur-lined hoes, but we'll wish we'd kept 'em on. But, however, do not shiver at this warning; do not quiver; say some poem for your system and prepare to charge the line. Should you see a grip germ, swat him on the beaver when you've got him. To the scrap heap then consign him, and you'll be progressing fine. List to us—there is no reason just because this is the season when the hickie jade of springtime smiles her way in scant apparel, needing censors or a barrel; fear they not the germs, the dear things. Emulate them—laugh at Fate.

A SONG OF HATE.
I do not care how dear
Prunes are,
They are not dear to me.
I hate 'em.
Though other folks may sing
Their praise,
I, at each opportunity,
Berate 'em.
For fourteen long and
Woody years
I grazed on prunes and shed
Vain tears.
That hushhouse taste e'en now
Appears.
Goff stare all prunes.
I hate 'em.

Looks as though the great Tautonic blunderbuss is about to bust. And when it busts, it will be the greatest bust in the history of the world.

We hope that when Pershing comes home
The folks will treat him like
An ordinary man who has done his duty.
And has done it well.
That's what he would like.
We hope somebody will run him
For president.
Or give him a house and lot,
Or name a state after him.
We want to remember him
As a great national hero
For a long, long time.

Who's Who In Today's News

RT. HON. SIR ERIC GEDDES.
Lieut. Richard P. Hobson's feat in San Diego harbor during the Spanish-American war has been twice duplicated recently by English and French sailors dare-devils.

Both of the "Hobson stunts" were successful in closing German U-boat channels.

~ Rt. Hon. Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the English admiralty, on April 24 reported the first raid on a U-base to the house of commons.

The day before five ships loaded with concrete were sunk in channels and Sir Eric reported that the entrance to the Bruges canal at Zeebrugge had been effectually closed.

This canal feeds Zeebrugge, the main German U-boat base in Belgium, five miles from the coast.

The second "stunt" was performed May 9, when the German "rat hole" at Ostend was blocked. The old cruiser Vendictive, which was the flagship of the blockading crew at Zeebrugge, was sent to the sea bottom between two big plays—the "open door" to the Ostend "rat hole." The Vendictive, full of concrete, was manned by volunteers, most of whom were picked up alive after she had been sunk.

Sir Eric's career has been a varied one. Born in 1876 in India, the son of Auckland Campbell Geddes of Edinburgh, the present first lord of admiralty was educated at Oxford Military academy, the Merchant Castle school and other institutions.

In 1916 he was made director general of military railways and inspector general of transportation in England. He also served for the navy, serving as a member of the board of admiralty, holding the rank of major general.

In the shift of naval commanders Sir Eric became first lord of the admiralty. March 8 he told the house of commons that German U-boats were not making headway.

"We and the Americans have been sinking submarines as fast as they are built," he said. But he urged greater speed in shipbuilding, saying "if improvement is not speedily made, the point where production balances losses will be postponed to a dangerous extent."

Sir Eric has a boyish face, but his well developed forehead and square chin stamp him as a man of great force, executive ability and tenacity of purpose.

His chief recreation is hunting.

TAKE TESTIMONY IN CASE AGAINST DAIRY COMPANY; JURY DRAWN

Second Case Against Koe & Chapell Before Six-Man Jury—Agreement Not Reached in Yesterday's Case.

Testimony in the case of William S. Agnew and Emil C. Luebke versus the Koe & Chapell Dairy company of Chicago was taken in the municipal court this morning before a six-man jury drawn to try the case. The first of the ten cases to be tried against the dairy company, that of S. A. Helgeson, was tried yesterday but the jury after two hours deliberation failed to reach an agreement and were dismissed.

The six-man jury in the Helgeson case left the court chambers shortly after five o'clock yesterday afternoon and returned at eight o'clock with the announcement that they could not reach an agreement. A new jury was drawn this morning to render a decision in the second of the ten cases. Those who were present by the attorneys for both parties are C. S. Atwood, E. E. Witherell, Fred H. Palmer, George Diehl, W. R. Pember and J. S. Kearney.

Both Luebke and Agnew took the stand this morning and testified that the Koe and Chapell company had failed to live up to their agreement relative to the price which they were to be paid for their milk during the months of March and April. Both men are farmers living in the vicinity of Milton Junction. Testimony was also given by Fred March, superintendent of the Koe and Chapell company relative to the orders which he had received relative to the prices to be paid for milk delivered during the months in question.

Both the case yesterday and the one today were tried before a crowded court room of interested milk producers. Ten cases are on the docket to be tried in the municipal court. One will be tried each day until the list is completed.

The case today resulted in a lively fight between the contesting attorneys. Throughout the case there were many arguments relative to the kind of testimony which should be allowed to be presented. John L. Fisher and Thomas S. Nolan, representing the Koe and Chapell company, and Charles Pierce the plaintiffs.

According to the testimony presented the plaintiffs in the action received a check for $250 for their milk and claim that they should have been paid the sum of $530.82. The attorneys for the defendants claim that at the time that the action was brought the price for milk was $2.50 per hundred pounds.

The court continued again at two o'clock and the taking of testimony continued. Whether the case will be submitted to a jury without argument as was done yesterday is not as yet known.

RED CROSS WORKERS

PAINT HOME YELLOW

Home of John Westphal Is Painted Yellow by Red Cross Workers

When He Refused to Contribute.

Sharon, May 28.—To hell with Wilhelm the second. The house painted with yellow paint on the roof of the home of John Westphal, a wealthy resident of this city last night by forty-five Red Cross workers when Westphal refused to contribute. Besides the inscription on the roof they painted his whole house yellow and all of the trees on his grounds.

The painting was done after the Red Cross workers had solicited funds from him several times during the past week and each time he refused to help and the last time so provoked the campaigners that a yellow painting was spontaneously decided upon.

John Westphal, a wealthy Civil war veteran, also refused to contribute when called upon, but no action was taken by the vigilantes. The whole city is tingling with delight at this drastic measure against a slacker and the prophecy is that several other citizens of Sharon will be treated in the same way should they continue to refuse to help the Red Cross. Last night's raid was stated as being only a forerunner of a series of "visits" upon those who have persistently refused to help.

MORE MACHINES ARE NEEDED ON THURSDAY

Committee in Charge of Memorial Day Celebration Request That Auto Owners Volunteer for Trip to Cemeteries.

With only two days left to make preparations for the decoration of the graves on Memorial day, the auto owners of this city are slow in responding to the call for help to take the veterans to the cemeteries. It is requested that the auto owners hand their names to C. S. Burnham or Charles Cox as soon as possible as it is necessary to make arrangements for the transportation of about sixty veterans on Memorial day morning.

The men will assemble at eight o'clock Thursday morning for their annual trip to the cemeteries to decorate the graves of their departed comrades and it is urgently requested that any owner of an auto in the city hand in his name before Thursday.

OBITUARY

FIVE DIVORCES ARE GRANTED BY JUDGE

Three Secured on Grounds of Desertion, One for Cruelty and Non-support, and One for Previous Marriage.

Five divorces were granted yesterday by Judge Grimm in circuit court. The plaintiffs in three of the cases were women while in each of the other two cases it was the husband who had the grievance.

Three separations on the grounds of desertion were ordered: Philip Schum and Mary Schum; Robert Sevier and Simon Sevier; and Joseph Morelle and Lela Morelle.

For cruelty and non-support Mary E. Brown was granted a divorce from Edward M. Brown. One of the grievances of the plaintiff in this case was that the defendant was continually bringing home stale bread, cakes, cookies and other food for her to eat and further that he had bought only one pound of butter since their marriage last March.

On the ground that she had been divorced and had married in less than a year, Blanche Graves secured an annulment of her marriage to Ernest Graves.

LAST HI-Y BANQUET HELD LAST EVENING

Joyous Time Was Had by All Who Helped to Give the Senior Members An Appropriate Send-off.

Joy held the center of the stage at the final banquet of the Hi-Y last evening. The Congregational church parlors, where they had met to celebrate the successful close of the season with their co-ed friends and the outgoing senior high school students an appropriate send-off.

The feature of the evening was the humorous stunt which each member and his or her partner had to give. These stunts ranged from "How to Care for a Baby" to "The Correct Way to Run a Railroad," and they kept the spirit of the audience gay.

Besides this Mr. Matheson spoke in glowing terms of the splendid spirit which the Hi-Y imbues. The Bible class teachers, Rev. Ewing and Rev. Ewing, also gave short talks.

Miss Alice M. Donnelly of the high school, who has always been a fast friend of the Hi-Y, and who was the guiding spirit, was also one of the speakers.

The high school jazz band furnished the music while Lane's quartet furnished the "agony" in other kind of war work, and the Congregational church parlor was splendidly decorated for the occasion with the patriotic spirit dominant.

The Hi-Y members who leave this year are Edward Ewing, Robert Lane, Barlow Spoon, Malcolm Paul, and Maurice Russell. Kurt Fuchs was toastmaster for the occasion.

RE-EXAMINE THIRTY MEN IN CLASS FIVE

Are Summoned to Report for Re-examination by Local Board Physician Next Monday Morning.

In accordance with an order received by the local board from the Adjutant General's office, thirty registrants, placed in class five for the reason that they were pronounced totally unfit for military service, are to be re-examined next Monday morning by the examining physician of the local board, Dr. J. F. Pember.

Notices ordering the men to report at that time for examination were mailed out today.

WILL ORGANIZE DRY FEDERATION IN COUNTY

William A. Brubaker of Chicago, a member of the National Dry Federation, is in the city for the purpose of organizing a dry federation in Rock county. He has arranged for a meeting to be held at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow evening at eight o'clock, to which the public is cordially invited and requested to attend.

The National Dry Federation, of which William Jennings Bryan is president, and Governor Zanis of the state is treasurer, are at the present time making a great drive for war-time prohibition as a patriotic measure to quickly win the war.

The order for the re-examination of these units is rather surprising, because they were placed in class five for the reason that they were pronounced totally unfit for military service. It is thought, however, that some of them who would not be qualified for military service may still be able to perform some other kind of war work, and this is no doubt the reason for the re-examination.

805 TONS COAL FOR THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

School Board Ready to Receive Bids for 800 Tons of Bituminous and 205 Tons of Anthracite.

Eight hundred and five tons of coal will be needed by the public schools of the city for heating purposes the coming winter. The school board is now ready to receive bids for the furnishing of the coal. They must be filed by June 1st to receive consideration.

The order for the coal calls for six hundred tons of bituminous in either the egg or lump size, and 205 tons of anthracite in the small egg size. Soft coal will be used to heat six of the schools while for the other four anthracite is necessary.

The amount of soft coal required for each of the six schools using it are as follows: High school, 300 tons; Adams, 100 tons; Jefferson, 150 tons; Grant, Douglas and Garfield, 50 each; and of hard coal Washington, 75; continuation, 70; Webster, 40; and Jackson, 20.

HOLD ANNUAL MEETING OF PHILOMATHIAN CLUB

The annual meeting of the Philomathian club was held at the home of the president, Mrs. J. R. Whiffen on Monday afternoon. The following list of officers was elected: President, Mrs. F. H. Farnsworth; vice president, Mrs. Helms; secretary, Mrs. Lillian Eddy; treasurer, Mrs. Grace Craig.

The new president appointed a committee to prepare a calendar for another year's work. The committee consists of Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Stevens and Cora Clemens. Reports were made by the secretary, Mrs. Farnsworth, and the treasurer, Mrs. Gibbons, the latter showing about $20 in the treasury.

A porch party was planned at the home of Mrs. Murdoch on June 7th, by the invitation of Mrs. Murdoch and Mrs. Taylor. The business meeting was preceded by a delightful one o'clock luncheon served by the hostess. Several readings and informal music, together with Red Cross work, were the social features of the afternoon.

STANDARD BEARERS HOLD ENTERTAINMENT

The Senior Division Standard Bearers were delightfully entertained last evening in the church, under the leadership of Miss Lorena Dewey.

During the short business session Miss Helen Peterson was elected captain of Group 2. Miss Jessie Jensen, Miss Corn Wilhelm led in devotion and plans were made to give an entertainment for the June meeting and invite the general public.

The June last evening consisted of a reading by Miss Emma Walt, more entitled "A Missionary Tale" and a Japanese playlet entitled "Mrs. Trevelyan and the General." The playlet was very well given by members of the group.

The platform was very effectively decorated to represent a Japanese home, and all the characters were dressed in Japanese costume.

The cast was as follows: Mrs. Trevelyan, Mrs. David Heenan; A Bible Woman, Miss Corn Wilhelm; A Missionary, Miss Mary Wendt; Kindergarten Teacher, Miss Ida Bell.

O-Ba-San, Miss Mary Wendt; O-Kan-San, Miss Rena Dewey; Chrysanthemum, Little Miss Anna Heenan.

At the conclusion of the program the hostesses served light refreshments.

Edgerton News

Edgerton, May 28.—City Treasurer M. H. Ford suffered a paralytic stroke last evening while calling at the home of his neighbor W. H. Morrissey. Mr. Ford has been at Whitewater yesterday to attend the funeral of a relative and returned late in the afternoon. On his way to town he stopped in at the Morrissey home where he was stricken. His entire left side was paralyzed and he was taken to his home where medical aid was summoned and his brother was called from Janesville. Mr. Ford has been engaged in the tobacco business in the city for a number of years and at the last election was elected city treasurer. Apparently he has been enjoying the best of health and his affliction comes as a shock to the entire community.

W. Jensen is a Madison business caller today.

Notice To Boy Scouts, Parents and Scout Officers

On each Wednesday for the next five weeks, starting Wednesday, May 29th, in addition to our regular program, we will feature a Boy Scout picture. We bring these pictures to the city for the benefit of the Boy Scouts and without thought of profit to ourselves. The pictures have the endorsement of all English and American Boy Scout officials.

All seats only 11c.

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

troubles. There will be chosen of men not coming back and of some coming back crippled and unfit for work, but is there any assurance of a man not being married? Unfit for work or not having a wife when a girl marries a man not in uniform?

What would be thought of a wife of a man not in uniform? Would she be so soon as he was afflicted with lingering illness or crippled? Why should the wife of a soldier who is offering his life for his country be subjected to such treatment merely because his clothes are khaki and a different cut from other men's?

My greatest pride is to say I am not the victim of a slacker and I think the thousands of other "crazy cranks" agree with me.

Don't feel obliged to stick too close

Angus Tetter had him by the throat, bearing like an outraged hyena. "What's it your business if I did steal a pig?"

The only flowers at the funeral were those purchased by the lady's quarter.

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS]

Cambridge, Mass., May 28.—An important conference of college heads of all the eastern colleges where a reserve officers' training corps is maintained was held at Harvard college today. The call for the conference came from Harvard college officials. It is the hope of the college heads to co-operate and co-ordinate their military work so as to insure greater efficiency in their training methods.

low, soft voice in competition with hoar of the car wheels, one continuous salient, indistinct and buzzy. The effect was as if I were being addressed through a bowl of oatmeal, and I watched me without interest, to be told what was getting what she was telling me. The result was a nervous strain consequent to the effort to hear that landed me at my work sapped and weary, every nerve keyed to attention.

I watched her follow those tactics with a man who had been invited of a week-end party to meet her and went to the car with her automobile machine, and she were assigned to my engine started, and that poor machine had not one moment of rest or relaxation as long as he was in the car. His face grew red and weary and I was surprised when, on the return trip, he slipped in beside me on the front seat.

"What a beautiful scenery," he explained, "and one can see so well from the front seat." And then a little wistfully: "Do you mind if I don't talk much?"

"As silent as the sphinx," I rejoined. "I'm not as young as I used to be, and talking over the noise of a purring engine is too much for me. This is my day of silence."

And then I noticed that the girl in question is spoiling her chances of friendship and lovers' because of her voice and her manner of handling it. I heard her equally clear and strong, and could not hear her that she is putting people under a strain that drives them from her. She is sweetly disposed and otherwise attractive, and the world is full of people like her.

So when you talk, dear, try to use soft tones. Distinctly spoken, and value your voice and your words. Give ears too much to hear from in comparison with the machinery of iron and steel. Study your voice and keep it soft, distinct, flexible and sympathetic. And if withal you convey to yourself potential power and confidence, and ability to engage to whom you speak as the wind waves a reed.

Goodbye. Study Annie's voice. It is sweet and low, but lacking in the elements of power. It is a lovely, gently auntie.

Madison, Wis., July 10.—The women workers of Wisconsin will be argued today and tomorrow before the Industrial Commission.

An order has been proposed by the Wisconsin Department of the Industrial Commission which provides that in Milwaukee manufacturing plants where a room conveniently located has been adequately supplied as a lunch room, lunch period may be forty-five minutes.

In restaurants throughout the state the proposed order provides that the meal period may be thirty minutes. The stretch of labor between meals does not exceed five hours; and if the employees eat their meals upon the premises, in any other places of employment to which the women are required to go, at least one hour during each day or night must be allowed for dinner or other meals.

The statutory meal period in this state is now one hour for all women employees. It is especially provided in this law, however, that the industrial commission may, after investigation, adopt general or special orders modifying this statutory rule.

Janesville Business Man Sings Praises

"I suffered for years with stomach trouble and gas continually. Doctors thought I had stomach ulcers or cancer. After that attack they advised going to Rochester, Minn., for an operation. A friend advised trying May's Wonderful Remedy, which I did, and I cannot sing the praises too highly, as I can now eat anything and everything." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and relieves the indigestion which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. J. P. Baker, Druggist.

WHEN you are "wide awake as an owl" at night, and can't "keep your eyes open" in the daytime you certainly need BEECHAM'S PILLS

Self-poisoning by imperfectly eliminated food-poisons is a very common ailment. Beecham's Pills correct it. Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World. Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c, 25c.

For Burning Eczema

Greasy salves and ointments should not be applied if good clear skin is wanted. From any druggist for 35c, or $1.00 for large size, get a bottle of Zemo. When applied as directed it effectively removes eczema, quickly stops itching, and heals skin troubles, also sores, burns, wounds and chafes. It penetrates, cleanses and soothes. Zemo is a clean, dependable and inexpensive, antiseptic liquid. Try it, as you believe nothing you have ever used is as effective and satisfying.

TOO WEAK TO FIGHT

The "Come-back" man was really never down-and-out. His weakened condition because of overwork, lack of exercise, improper eating and living demands stimulation to satisfy the cry for a health-giving appetite and strength. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules, the National Remedy of Holland, will do the work. They are wonderful. Three of these capsules each day will put a man on his feet before he knows it. Whether his trouble comes from uric acid poisoning, the kidneys, gravel or stone in the bladder, stomach derangement or other ailment that befalls the over-taxed American, don't wait until you are entirely down-and-out, but take them today. Your druggist will gladly refund your money if they do not help you. Accept no substitute. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on every box, three sizes. They are the pure, original, imported Haarlem Oil Capsules.

He turned in his seat to wave to the group on the porch, his eyes resting in a sudden hunger upon Angelina's frail, slender figure, as he remembered. She knew that he had forgotten in the hurry of his leaving-taking, and she would have hastened down the steps to stop the carriage; but all the old ladies were there to see, and she simply stood, and gazed after the vehicle as it rolled away slowly behind the fog of Samuel's safe old calico horse. She stood and looked, holding her chin very high, and trying to check its unsteadiness. A sense of loneliness and desolation fell over the home. Piece by piece the sisters put away all the clothing they had offered in vain to Abe. They said that the house was already dull without his presence. Miss Abigail began to plan what she should have for dinner the day of his return.

No one seemed to notice Angey. She felt that her own departure would create scarcely a stir; for, without Abraham, she was only one of a group of poor old women in a semi-charity home. Slowly she started up the stairs for her bonnet and the old broche shawl. When she reached the landing, where lay the knitted mat of the three-star pattern, the matron called up to her in tragic tones:

"Angey Rose, I just thought of it. He never kissed you good-by!" Angey turned, her small, slender feet sinking deep into one of the woolly stars, her slim figure encircled by the light from the upper hall window. She saw a dozen faces uplifted to her, and she answered with quiet dignity:

"Abe wouldn't think of kissin' me afore folks."

Then quickly she turned again, and went to her room—their room—where she seated herself at the window, and pressed her hand against her heart, which hurt with a new, strange, unfamiliar pain, a pain that she could not have shown "afore folks."

CHAPTER XIV.

Cutting the Apron Strings. The usual hardy pleasure-seekers that gather at the foot of Shore Lane whenever the bay becomes a field of ice and a field of sport as well were there to see the old man arrive, and as they stepped out of the carriage there came forward from among the group gathered about the fire on the beach the editor of the Shoreville Herald.

Ever since his entrance into the Old Ladies' home Abe had never stopped chaffing in secret over the fact that until he died, and no doubt received worthy obituary, he might never again "have his name in the paper." In former days the successive editors of the local sheet had been willing, nay, eager, to chronicle his doings and Angey's, whether Abe's old enemy, rheumatism, won a new victory over him or Angey's second cousin Ruth came from Roverhead to spend the day, or—wonder indeed to relate!—the old man mended his roof or painted the front fence. No matter what happened of consequence to Captain and Mrs. Rose, Mr. Editor had always been zealous to retail the news before the auction sale of their household effects marked the death of the old couple, and of Abe especially, to the social world of Shoreville. What man would care to read his name between the lines of such a news item as this?

The Old Ladies' Home is making preparations for its annual quilting bee. Donations of worsted, cotton batting, and linings will be gratefully received.

which the white sails of scooters were darting like a flock of huge, single-winged birds.

Eph's racing with Captain Bill Green," replied the newspaper man. "Captain Bill's got an extra set of new runners at the side of his scooter and wants to test them. Say, boys," looking from one to the other of the old fellows, "so you're going scootering, eh? Lively sport! Cold kind of sport for men of your age. Do you know, I've a good mind to run in tomorrow an article on 'Long Island and Longevity.' Taking headline, eh? Captain Rose," turning to Abe as Samuel would do no more than glower at him, "to what do you attribute your good health at your time of life?"

Abe grinned all over his face and cleared his throat importantly, but before he could answer, Samuel growled:

"Ter me! His health an' his life both. I dragged him up out of a death-bed only a week ago."

The editor took out his notebook and began scribbling.

"What brought you so low, Captain Rose?" he inquired without glancing up. Again, before Abe could answer, Samuel trod on his toe.

"Thirty mollyodding women-folks," Abe mumbled his voice and slammed the fist of one hand against the palm of the other.

"If you go an' put that in the paper, I'll—"

Words failed him. He could see the sisters fairly fighting for the possession of the Shoreville Herald tomorrow, evening, as they always scrambled, each for the first glance at the only copy taken at the home, and he could hear one reading his name aloud—reading of the black ingratitude of their brother member.

"Just say," he added eagerly, "that the time for old folks to stick home under the cellar door has passed, an' nobody is to let a ter go g-a-livin' in nowadays. An' then you might mention—the old man's face was shining now as he imagined Angey's pleasure—" "That Mrs. Rose is gone down ter Twin Coves ter visit Mrs. Samuel Darby for a week, an' Cap'n Darby an' Cap'n Abraham Rose," his breast swelling out, "is a-goin' ter spend a week at Bleak Hill. Ther ain't that Cap'n Eph a-scootin' in now?" I guess them air new runners o' Bill Green's didn't work. He ain't nowhere in sight. He—

"Let's be a-gwine, Abe," interrupted Samuel, and leaving the editor still scribbling, he led the way down the bank with a determined trudge, his market basket in one hand, his grip in the other, and his lips muttering that "a feller couldn't dew nuthin in Shoreville without gettin' his name in the paper." But a moment later, when the two were walking gingerly over the ice to the spot where Eph had drawn his scooter to a standstill, Samuel fell into a self-congratulatory chuckle.

"He didn't find out, though, that I had my reasons for leavin' home tew."

DECIDES TO BE A LIVE ONE

Young Man Gets Next to Himself

One of our young men sure has come to the front in short order and his friends are at a loss to understand his untiring energy and ability to work and get results, where only a few weeks before he seemed to be all run down and almost a nervous wreck.

Questioned by a curious friend as to the cause of the sudden change, he said: "I sure was in bad shape and no one knew it better than I did. I had my goat for fair. I was all in and my nerves shot to pieces with worry and sleepless nights. One day I overheard a customer telling what Phosphated Iron had done for him and I could not get a supply quick enough. That's the whole story, just Phosphated Iron. My poor tired overworked nerves just seemed to be Phosphated hungry, the way they took hold of it, and say what a relief. I felt like a new man. Could sleep at night, and get up in the morning feeling like a two-year-old. Believe me, I had some appetite too, my weight increased rapidly, my face filled out and had the color of perfect health that only goes with pure blood, well fed with Iron.

"You can bet I am strong for Phosphated Iron. Everyone who tries it is a booster. "Do you know even the doctors are prescribing it; trust them to get next to a good thing, they were not long waiting up to Phosphated Iron." To insure doctors and their patients getting the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to substitute pills or tablets.—Smith Drug Co., and leading druggists everywhere.

NEVER FAILS TO END MISERY OF PILES

Stops Itching At Once

"Hundreds of people in this vicinity," says Peterson, "know of the mighty healing power of PETERSON'S OINTMENT in eczema, salt rheum, old sores, itching skin, ulcers, pimples and all diseases of the skin. They know it cures these ailments—that it is guaranteed to cure them. Now I want to say to every sufferer from piles, either blind, bleeding or itching, that I will guarantee, that a 30 cent box of PETERSON'S OINTMENT will rid you of piles or your druggist will return your money."

"For years I suffered terribly with itching and bleeding piles. I tried everything and despaired of ever getting rid of them. It gives me great pleasure to state that Peterson's Ointment entirely cured me, and I sincerely recommend it to all sufferers." Yours truly, David A. Seymour, Supt. of Parks, Buffalo, N. Y. Advertisement.

Women-folks, be it only one, hain't good all the time fer nobody. I come ter see Blossy twict a year afore we was married, reglar; an' now, I calculate ter leave her twict a year fer a spell. A week once every six months separate an' apart," proceeded the recently made benedict, "is what makes a man an' his wife learn how ter put up with one another in between times."

"Why, me an' Angey," began Abe, "have lived together year in an' year out fer—"

"All aboard!" interrupted Captain Eph with a shout. "It's a fair wind. I bet on making it in five minutes and fifty seconds."

Seven minutes had been the record time for the five-mile sail over the ice to Bleak Hill, but Samuel and Abe, both vowing delightedly that the skipper couldn't go too fast for them, stepped into the body of the boat and squatted down on the hard boards. They grinned at each other as the scooter started and Eph jumped aboard—grinned and waved to the people on the shore, their proud old thoughts crying:

"I guess folks will see now that we're as young as we ever was!"

They continued to grin as the boat spun into full flight and went whizzing over the ice, whizzing and bumping and bouncing. Both their faces grew red, their teeth began to chatter; but Samuel shouted at the top of his voice in defiance of the gale:

"Abe, we've cut the apron strings!"

"Hy-guy!" Abe shouted in return, his heart flying as fast as the sail, back to youth and manhood again, back to trust days and the vacation time of boyhood. "Hy-guy, Sam! Hain't we a-gwine ter have a reglar A No. 1 spree!"

CHAPTER XV.

The "Hardening" Process.

The life-saving station was very still. Nos. 3 and 6 had gone out on the eight-o'clock patrol. The seventh man was taking his twenty-four hours off at his home on the shore. The keeper was working over his report in the office. The other members of the crew were upstairs asleep, and Abe and Samuel were bearing each other company in the messroom.

Abe lay asleep on the carpet-covered sofa which had been dragged out of the captain's room for him, so that the old man need not spend the night in the cold sleeping-loft above. He was fully dressed except for his boots; for he was determined to conform to the rules of the service, and sleep with his clothes on ready for instant duty.

"Talk erbout him a-dyin'!" growled Samuel to himself, lounging wearily in a chair beside the stove. "He's jest startin' his life. He's a reglar boss. I didn't think he had it in him."

Samuel's tone was resentful. He was a little jealous of the distinction which had been made between him and Abe; and drawing closer to the fire, he shivered in growing distaste for the cot assigned to him with the crew upstairs, where the white frost lay on the window latches.

What uncomfortable chairs they had in this station! Samuel listened to the moaning of the breakers, to the wind rattling at the casements—and wondered if Blossy had missed him. About this time she must be sitting in her chintz-covered rocker, combing out the ringlets of her golden-white hair in the cheery firelight.

Now, that would be a sight worth seeing! Abe opened his mouth and began to snore. What disgusting, hideous creatures men were, reflected Samuel. Six months' living with an unusually high-bred woman had insensibly raised his standards.

Dinner Stories

The victorious British troops during the advance on Jericho discovered a skeleton which had been blown from its tomb by a shell, and reported to London that the find was believed to be the remains of John of Antioch. "Cannot trace John of Antioch," came the reply. "Send identification disk!"

Irvin S. Cobb recently wasted several thousand dollars drilling for water on his West Chester farm at $3 a foot.

One day during the drought Mr. Cobb was motoring home with four huge casks of water, when a stranger hailed him:

"Where did you get that water, brother?"

"Four miles down the road," Cobb replied.

"Do you mean to tell me you haul your water four miles," said the stranger.

"Yes," said Cobb.

"Why the dickens don't you dig a well?"

"Because, friend," said Cobb, sadly, "it's just as far one way as the other."

"When the Germans reproach the Belgians," said Colonel House at a luncheon in New York, "when the Germans talk about guarantees against Belgian aggression, I am strongly reminded of little Willie."

"Little Willie" ran howling with rage to his mamma.

"That goat butted me!" he roared. "The bad goat butted me in the stomach!"

"Are you sure you weren't teasing it?" his mamma asked.

"No, no," wailed Willie. "What?"

Wonderfully Satisfied by Results Obtained with Nujol

Read the following letter from Mr. J. A. Smith who gladly tells others what Nujol did for him:

NUJOL LABORATORIES
STANDARD OIL CO. (New Jersey),
BAYONNE, N. J.

Dear Sirs:—

For a number of years I suffered from a most stubborn case of constipation. After having tried every laxative, etc., without results, I noticed your advertisement and decided to give Nujol a trial, which I did with the very best results possible. I am never bothered with constipation now and feel much better.

I can truthfully say that I have derived far more benefits from the use of Nujol than from all other treatments combined. I heartily recommend it to any sufferer from constipation.

Centenary, S. C.,
Dec. 22, 1916

Yours truly,
J. A. Smith.

MR. SMITH is one of thousands who now insure regular bowel-habits—the healthiest habit in the world—simply by the use of Nujol. To endure constipation is to invite sickness. Use Nujol to restore bowel-vitality. Don't lay yourself open to diseases that start from inactive and unhealthy bowels.

Nujol relieves stubborn or occasional constipation in nature's own way, gently and effectively. It causes no false stimulation; no griping; no harmful reaction. Nujol is positively pure and drug-free; a pleasant remedy to take; a safe remedy for all. Avoid the dangers of harmful pills and physics. Use Nujol and be "regular as clockwork."
